On to Waxahachie will be the sentiment of the meeting to-night.

The Santa Fe passenger train goes south this morning on regular time.

The train from the South on the Missouri Pacific came in last night, but several hours late.

A small amount raised between this city and Waxahachie will insure the building of the road at once.

A fire alarm was turned on at 11:30 last night in the Third ward and the boys turned out promptly. It, however, proved a false alarm.

TURN OUT TO-NIGHT.

Last Chance to Get the Cotton Mills.

Mr. J. M. Haney, for the company he represents, when here the other day extended the time, or, in other words, held open his proposition until June 1, and our people thereby had that additional time in which to raise the requisite amount of cash with which to secure the establishment of the cotton mills in our city.

This is now the last day of May and the time is therefore about up, and these of the mass-meeting of the people called to take place at the court-house to-night will effectively settle the matter, and show to the outside world whether or not we have the remarkable pluck and enterprise that is accredited to us. Only a small amount now remains to be raised, and it is expected that that will be made up without trouble at the meeting to-night.

Let every patriotic citizen within the limits of our city be at the court-house to-night, for besides the subject of cotton mills, cracker factories, machine shops, etc., the subject of increased railroad facilities for our city is to be discussed, and you will likely hear something interesting upon this subject.

AN UNGRACIOUS THIEF.

He Robs His Friend and Benefactor and Skips for Parts Unknown.

Night before last a young man by the name of Charlie Rosenberg came in from Harrod accompanied by one Marx Chouglar, the two stopping at Mr. Owen's boarding house, 715 Main street. Young Rosenberg, formerly of St. Louis but more recently from Texas, stated that he and his friend had gone to Harrod with the intention of getting into business, but did not like the prospect, and decided to seek their fortune elsewhere. In fact, he seemed disgusted with "the town on paper," and declared he would never more try a new place. But his disgust with Harrod was nothing to compare with the utterly "done-up" condition in which he found himself yesterday morning when he awoke from his slumber. His friend, Marx Chouglar, was gone, and with him $130 in currency, nearly every dollar he possessed. He says Chouglar woke him up about 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning getting out of bed, but he thought nothing of it and again fell to sleep, and was surprised and chagrined when he missed his companion in the morning and later found his money gone.

It seems Rosenberg had made the acquaintance of Chouglar at Texarkana and the latter being broke and out of a job, he kindly proposed to pay his fare and assist him in procuring employment, which he did with the above unfortunate result.

Young Rosenberg has found no clew to the ungrateful thief and is very much distressed. He is trying to pledge his watch and a valuable trunk of clothing for enough money to pay his way to St. Louis.

All members of the G. A. R. are requested to meet at their headquarters at 9 o'clock sharp this morning.
